How does Collabor8 manage your supply chain?

Imagine...

a product designed to operate in any business involved in manufacturing, transportation, warehousing and distribution.

a product that doesn't require you to change your existing business relationships and trading terms.

a product that enables SMEs and large businesses to participate in the new internet age.

a product that handles all international and domestic transactions securely, with total coverage from purchase order to door.

Proactive management

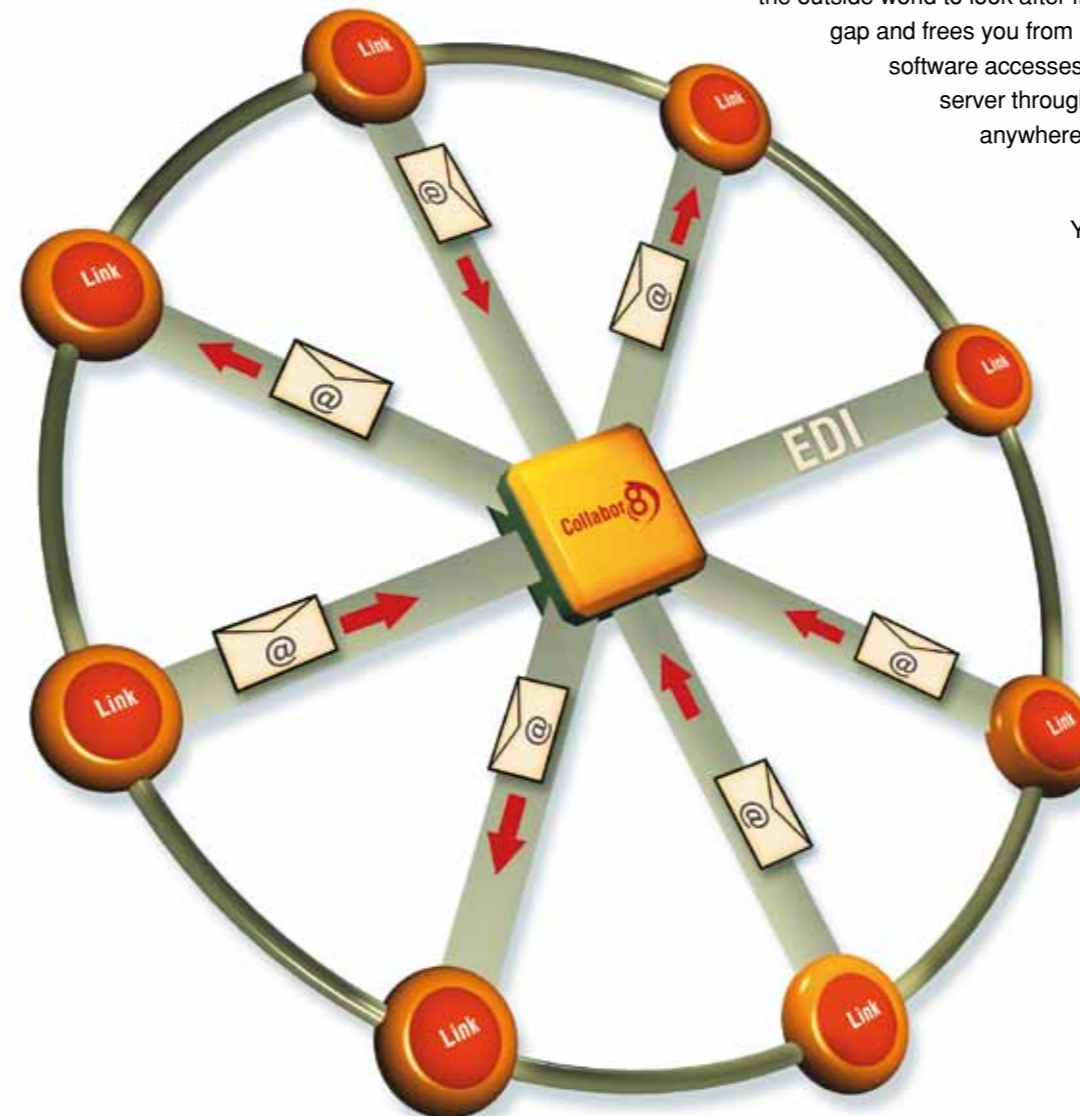

Collabor8 automates the management of the supply chain and provides the flexibility of a full suite of EDI options, without the need to make extensive changes to your existing software.

It doesn't replace your current internal systems and it doesn't make them redundant. It communicates seamlessly with your existing software and streamlines your existing infrastructure; total transaction management within your company and beyond. Collabor8 puts everyone in the loop, managing the flow of information. It keeps you up to date – and profitable.

A typical enterprise doesn't have one supply chain. It has hundreds or thousands. Collabor8 easily manages the totality of all these interactions for any business, never losing track of individual supply chains. The flow of information commences prior to the movement of a product and ceases only after the product has been delivered and warehoused.

Collabor8 does not require a significant investment in IT. The product runs over the internet and is accessible from your browser. Collabor8 is an Internet based Application Service Provider and charges on a transaction basis so you only pay for what you use.

Most current systems work internally within an organisation leaving the outside world to look after itself. Collabor8 bridges this gap and frees you from mundane tasks. Its front end software accesses the Collabor8 application server through your browser so you can use it anywhere there is an internet connection.

You can choose to communicate with simple email or more complex EDI technology – whichever suits your business.

You don't need to wait for your business trading partners to adopt Collabor8.

As long as they can respond to email Collabor8 will manage the supply chain for you.

And if a particular link fails to respond then Collabor8 will identify the weak link in the chain and inform you.

So how does Collabor8 work for you? It works by providing:

1

Secure global messaging within the supply chain with realtime access from any browser.

2

Automatic follow-up and message prompting, freeing you to focus on other areas of your business.

3

Automatic reconciliation of purchase orders, picking lists and commercial invoices.

4

Freight and service provider fee checking with KPI reporting.

5

Automatic ongoing processing once a Trading Group has been set up.

6

The ability to track and trace any product in the supply chain.

7

Full reporting of all information.

8

Electronic documents which can be configured to suit an individual's file format requirements.
